A Letter from the Sheriff.

To the Philage of the Press and Tribone:
Gentlement—An article in yesterday's Prass AND TRIBUNS, headed "A Reform Needed at the Jail," must have been written under a misapprobension of the real facts, and does me personally so much injustice that I cannot let it pass nanoticed.

It is charged that harlots are admitted to the iail and cell of Henry Junearity and that a rein-There does not appear to be any movement on foot in riew of the mitigation of the sentence of death, peased upon the three unfortunate men now incorrecrated in the city gool. The public mind has, doubtless, been prejudiced against these men on account of the enormity of the crimes for which they stand convicted, hence the coldness and indifference manifested as to their melancholy fate. But, whilst we admit and uphold the justice of that law which consigns the perpetrator of a cool and bloody murder to an ignominous death, we do, at the same time, about that tribunal which, in the face of extemating and matter from personal observation and have also included the control of the coldness and indifference manifested as to their melancholy fate. But, whilst we admit and uphold the justice of that law which consigns the perpetrator of a cool and bloody murder to an ignominous death, we do, at the same time, about the jail, and know something of this matter from personal observation and have

Hansas Constitutional Conventions
Full official relocates of the late election in Kansas give the majority for a convention to forme a State Constitution at 3,831. Gov. The Counsel in the Sickles Case.

Journal of yesterday says:

He had been drinking deeply during the day and towards evening went to the above house with others and drank there or four times. He then laid down upon a sofa, and a few minute afterward his comrades, being ready to go called him, but received no answer. They at tempted to rouse him and found him dead. He was a man about forty years of age and up married.

is in the city.

France II. Smith accumined by Mr. Carlisle—Am one of the official corps of Reporters of the House of Representatives; was in the House on Friday, and Saturday, 25th and 26th of February last; if X. Sickles made speeches on those days; have before me the manuscript of those speeches; that of the aspeech of Saturday is in the biandwriting of Mr. McKibone entirely; the first three pages of Friday seem to be in the handwriting of Mr. McKibone; there are additions and corrections in the Friday's speech in another handwriting and in a different ink; do not know whose handwriting that is.

To Mr. Brady—I do not know at which hour
Mr. Sickles, spoke on Friday, I thin he spoke, at about 5 o'clock, and on Saturday, I cannot say precisely what time.

Mr. Carlislo read from the Congressional Globa
the speech of Mr. So on the subject of Navy Yards, delivered Friday, the 28th.

Mr. Brady—Have you looked into these corpulent rolls to see how how many of them pertains to Mr. Sickles;

Witness.—I cannot judge at what hour or manuscript of Friday's speccu were writing of Mr. S.

The manuscript was exhibited to the jury.

all the corrections in that manuscript.

To Mr. Brady.—The practice of sending speeches for revision is by no means uniform; in a majority of cases the speeches are not, during the last days of the session, handed to the members till the next moraing; how it was in this case I don't know.

Some delay occurred here while Mr. Smith was assuming the record of the votes on Saturday, the right of Vebruar?

Witness to Mr. Carliske—I have examined the roll of votes on Friday; Mr. Sickles seems to have voted on the last vote at the time of adjournment, which was about 9 o'clock; Mr. S. pears to have voted on the last vote on Saturday.

Some further time was occupied by witness in examining the manuscript of Saturdays proceedings in the House.

Mr. Carlisle informed the Court that the prosecution had submitted to the counsel for the defence an offer of evidence, and were waiting for the result of their examination of it. It is airmised that this offer of evidence is connected with an inquiry to Mr. Sickles' own conduct and particularly into the matter of his visits with a lady to Baruun's Hotel, Ballimone. The proprietor of that hotel is in Court.

Mesars, Brady, Graham, and Orld stepped up to the bench, and in a low tene of voice discussed the matter with the Judge, evidently submitting the question to his decision. Authorities were submitted on both sides, and some time was spent by the Judge in consulting them.

The Judge.—For very obvious reasons, the Court will do no more than merely siste his opinion on this point, and that is, that the evidence is not admissable.

Mr. Chilton, for the defence, alluding to the protracted trial, axid they were willing to submit the case, whall hare been declared by the Court, and then only the prosecution would sasent to the proposition, but the case had not reached that point.

Mr. Chilton would withhold his reply until the prosecution had pronounced that the evidence is not admissable.

whole proceedings, that everything would be for me open to a free and frask intercourse. Upon this hypothesis, it was arranged that I should proceed alone in my negotiations, but that I would let no hitch conclude them without giving him (the General) an opportunity to reconcile such differences.

My interviews then with the President commenced daily, and sometimes twice a day, and wore always cordial, frank, free and harmonizing. We became better friends at every meeting, but could not agree upon all points. Finally, it was proposed that our next meeting should be held in presence of Gen. Urquing, Gen. Guido, his minister, and Sr. Amaral. I promptly eccepted. When we met, no one but flee Urquiza, and his private secretary were present. We commenced the discussion of the points of difference, one by one, and as we seitled them, they were reduced to writing. We then drew up an agreement, which was signed by the President and myself. This was the crowning glory of the whole affair, and in the general joy over it, Gen. Urquita embraced President Lopez.

The sicemers are to be of light draft, and just as large as will pass the locks at Lockport. They will have side wheels constructed after a new patent, by which the swell is diminished. It is thought that libes boats can be constructed so as to run ten miles per hour, and carry thirty tens each of light freight, besides affording good accommodations for passengers. They can easily pass between this city and Rochester in a might, or in eight hours of the day. The enterprise is somewhat new, but not impracticable, and if consummated, will influe new life into the villages lying along the Canal cast of this city.

The boats are not to be made expensive, and are to be run with a due regard to economy. The hulls will be a hittle under one hundred feet long, and have thirteen feet beam, strong but light. The guards will ecever the wholes and form a part of the cabin floor—in width over all, Seventeen feet. The held will be five feet deep for machinery, freight &c. The cabin will be above, and extend nearly over the whole boat. The engine of each boat will be of airty horse power, and when flight the boat will draw but twenty inches of water. Such a craft can be constructed for 44,000, and will not prove expensive to operate. If possible, the Exchange market is becoming closer, and with the small amounts of produce to go forward, it begins to be anxiously mooted whether the supply can be made to last till the new crop affords relief. We have never before known so many hopes and fears centered in these words, "the in-coming erop." With a good yield and fair prices, it is conceded on all hands that the West will again "be all right;" but should the prairies fall to yield their abundance, almost every one is indulging the most Merchandise and other Property forwarded to and from the West, vir Cinn't is Greege, fishen by the Lakes,

THE TWO GAS COMPANIES.

We have taken no part, nor do we prove to take part, in the war of the rival Chapanies in this city. The question is on which the PRISS AND THIBUND has no interest than any other private establish that is obliged, as our's is, to pay $120 month for gas-light. We take it that gentlemon—very respectable and respongentlemen they are too—ongaged in gentlemen they are some reason that our friend Go bays elastioned two ressels on Thursday for Buffale—to make money. We have enough with the Odepany to know they are enimated also, and aconotimes think intensely, with the money-making a lifthe Companies get up a vigorous quarrel shall be pleased to take gas of the one will furnish it the cheapest; and beyond we are not expected to sympathize puls with either issue.

We are under great obligations to the Company for compositing their older riv put down the price of gas to $2.50 per feet; and we do most deroutly hope that tween the two it will hever to above the

ure. At the same time, we entreat the Olto give way to the New Company; becwhen they do, up goes the price again to old notch. We also entreat the New so sell out to the Old Company; because as as the sale is made the same unfortunat suit will be sure to follow. As for ourse we propose to buy a few shares in each, our voice may all the while be for war. do not invest too large sum, we shall a money thereby, by keeping down the cothat of which all city printing offices requirement.

It is said that the New Company enter into bonds not to sell out. We hop Now, if we can persuade the Old Compan to sell out or give up the competition whe fire gets hot, we shall claim the title of 1 benefactors. What the public want is we want—good lights at low figures. If

Now if either company want to von their ideas, our advertising columns are at the usual, and, we think, very med rates. The New Company take advants this state of facts, and reply to the Tim Saturday, on the second page of this morn issue. We shall send them a bill that buy several feet of that which they propo make. Now if the Old Company have an sire to put in a rejoinder, we would be git pay a part of our month's bill, due prefity a by giving the rejoinder the benefit of our clation.
